

Yes, if the decryption process is able to restore the original content correctly, it indicates that your encryption and decryption logic is functioning as intended. The reason the encrypted file (PDF in your case) is not opening directly is expected behavior because